

Bank continues its series of community seminars

(Hamilton, Bermuda, 3 October 2005) Bank of Bermuda will be hosting another in its series of informative seminars for the Bermuda community on “ How to own a piece of the rock”. The seminar will be held from 5.30pm-8pm on Tuesday 11 October at the Fairmont Hamilton Princess in the Gazebo Lounge and will provide information for consumers looking to buy a condominium.

Seminar host, Frederica Forth, Business Development Manager, Personal Loans, Bank of Bermuda will team up with representatives from Coldwell Banker Bermuda Realty, Rego Realtors and the Property Group Ltd., to provide information on the benefits of condo living compared to traditional living.

“Owning your own home in Bermuda is something that many people think that they can’t afford which is why many first time home buyers are turning to condominiums. Not only is a condo a perfect option for first time home buyers, but it is also a solution for those who want something that is easier to maintain or for those looking to make a property investment.”

Over the past year the Bank has hosted several informative community seminars on “ How to own a piece of the rock,” affordable education and financing home improvements.

Frederica continued, “ The Bank’s seminar series has proven to be extremely successful and we are pleased to be able to continue to host these informative sessions for people in the community to help them make their dreams a reality.”

Consumers can call 299 6224 by Friday 7 October 2005 to reserve a space for the seminar.
